Sgt. John Ortolan Wins Air Medal in Vietnam

Army Sgt. John D. Ortolan, 21, who returned in August to Vietnam where he was wounded seriously two years ago, has been awarded the Air Medal, his family learned last week. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ames, 3238 Carlson Ave., Sgt. Ortolan received the Air Medal Award for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight over the Republic of Vietnam from Aug. 11 to Oct. 2, 1970. On his second combat tour in Southeast Asia, the local paratrooper is serving with the 1st Battalion (Airborne), 503rd Infantry Regiment, his name and address appears in today's Yule Mail Call list, published elsewhere in this issue. Sgt. Ortolan was wounded in action Sept. 27, 1968, while fighting near An Khe, Vietnam, with the 101st Airborne Division. He suffered metal fragmentation wounds to the left hip which resulted in a fractured pelvis bone and injured an area near the spine. Military authorities reported the shell fragments that hit the local soldier came from a short-range, friendly artillery round directed at a nearby hostile force. The U. S. troops were in a defensive position at the time of the action. Initially, the paratrooper underwent surgery at a military

Separation of Quad-Cities from Levee District Backed by Mayors, Levee Trustee, Town Officers

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

An organized move to divorce the Madison County sector of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District from the district has been initiated in the Quad-City area, it was learned by the Press-Record this week.

The action grows out of recent developments emphasizing dissatisfaction of Madison County taxpayers with levee district services they receive as compared with the amount of taxes they pay into the district. Present boundaries include the East St. Louis and Quad-City areas. These developments include:

1. Indictment and conviction of all four members of the present levee board of trustees on charges of misconduct in office.
2. Payment of large amounts of Quad-City area taxes into the levee district with only minimal expenditures for drainage purposes in this area.
3. Minority representation of the Quad-City area on the levee board although Quad-City taxpayers are now paying 46% of the overall tax bill for the entire district. (Madison County has one board member to three from St. Clair county; the second local member is deceased.)
4. Expenditure of a large percentage of tax income for operations in St. Clair County, including an estimated 80% of the contracts and labor.
5. Hiring, contracting and purchasing policies whose primary aim has seemed to be perpetuation of the East St. Louis political organization.

Governor Adjourns Assembly, Defeats Redistricting Move

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

The 1970 Illinois General Assembly was adjourned Tuesday by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie after a 14-hour session in which Senate Democrats staged a successful filibuster preventing the Republican-dominated legislature from gaining time necessary for redistricting legislative and congressional districts. The session ended at 2 a.m. Tuesday.

The governor used a rarely invoked constitutional provision giving him that authority if the two houses of the Assembly could not agree upon a time of adjournment. The provision states that the governor may, "adjourn the General Assembly to such time as he thinks proper not beyond the first day of the next regular session."

Monday's session had been interrupted by a one-day meeting before final adjournment, but shortly after noon the House, in a surprise move, adopted a resolution to recess until Dec. 17. This would have allowed Republicans time to try to obtain the 1970 census figures needed for redistricting. The resolution passed the house over boisterous protests of Democratic House members. Democrats Open Filibuster The House resolution reached the Senate shortly after 3 p.m. Monday. The Democrats began a filibuster against the move, contending it was unconstitutional and invalid. The filibuster continued until 7 p.m. Tuesday when a recess was called for Senate members to attend a dinner honoring Sen. Everett R. Peters, Republican of St. Joseph, who is retiring after 36 years in the General Assembly. Following an uneventful and

Madison Annexation Hearing Resel Monday

Hearing on an ordinance adopted by the city of Madison for annexation of 333 acres of land in the Granite City Army Depot has been postponed from today until 10 a.m. Monday in circuit court at Edwardsville. Notice of the new hearing date was given Granite City Council members Monday night by City Attorney Leon Scroggins who said the hearing must be held not later than Monday because there is a 30-day limitation for court action from the date the annexation action was initiated.

Granite City Council members asked Scroggins if he had ample information to oppose the Madison annexation effort. Scroggins replied that he believed the city of Madison had no sound basis for its action. Mayor Donald Partney and other council members indicated they plan to attend Monday's hearing.

City to Receive $330,000 Additional Disaster Aid

Granite City will receive an additional $330,000 in "disaster" funds to help finance repair of sanitary sewer damage caused by the flood waters of July, 1969, Mayor Donny Partney informed the regular meeting of the city council Monday night.

11 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC FATALITY

Partney said that $330,000 in additional funds will bring to $664,000 the total amount of federal funds allocated to Granite City by the Federal Highway Program. The funds will aid considerably in offsetting the substantial cost of the city's sewer repair job costs.

If they are willing to accept the state audit on funds spent to restore broken sewer lines in the Namooki sanitary sewer area, the money should be received soon, the mayor said. The allocation already has been approved by state auditors and certified to the U. S. Office of Emergency Preparedness which allocated funds to this area under its disaster relief program following 8 1/2 inch rains over a few days in July last year. Similar allocations were made to other municipalities, including St. Louis, St. Louis Levee and Sanitary districts to finance repairs to public facilities (mostly sewer installations)

Breakers Sewer Breaks Costly Collapse of many sewer lines resulted in financial crisis with bankruptcy. More than $1 million has been paid for sewer repair costs since the series of breaks began a year and a half ago. The council Monday night also was notified by one of its aldermen, Emerald Dawes, that he intends to file a damage suit against the city and Street Superintendent William Warfield over a few days in July last year. Similar allocations were made to other municipalities, including St. Louis, St. Louis Levee and Sanitary districts to finance repairs to public facilities (mostly sewer installations)

IF NOVEMBER COMES can December be far behind? Santa's cabin materialized this week in Civic Park, Niedringhaus Ave. between Delmar and Edison avenues, and will be open to the public after its jolly occupant arrives in a welcoming parade Nov. 27.

Improvements at Bi-State Parks Airport Complete

The initial phases of the $1 million improvement program at Bi-State Parks Airport in East St. Louis-Cahokia have been completed. The new 3500-foot jet runway has been paved and will be open to traffic early in December when the painting and installation of lights are completed.

"The runway can—in the future—be extended to 7000 feet as needs dictate," Col. R. E. Smyser, Jr., executive director of Bi-State Development Agency, said. The Bi-State Agency owns and operates the air field which is being expanded to permit use by executive jets and to meet other increased general aviation needs.

"A turbine fuel facility has been constructed, and the new entrance road between Upper Cahokia road and the airport has been completed," Smyser explained. He said that construction of 22 new Thangars also is under way. They will replace 30 of the present Thangars which must be removed to comply with clear zone regulations of the Federal Aviation Administration by June, 1971.

Plans for the best of our improvements at Bi-State Parks Airport and hope to make it one of the best general aviation fields in the metropolitan area by mid-1971," Smyser said.

Council in Stalemate Over Claim -- Again

A two-year-old argument over payment of a $1000 claim owed a consulting engineering firm for service performed in 1968 took a new turn in Granite City Council meeting Monday night.

A majority bloc of council members which has held up payment of the bill for a variety of reasons included the bill on the regular claim list and submitted it for approval, only to learn from Mayor Donald Partney that he would not sign the check for payment even if it were approved.

The fact that the bill went before the council with the approval of the Finance Committee, headed by Alderman R. E. Robertson, was an indication that past differences had been settled between Kenneth Kleeberger of Research Planning and Design Associates and council members who had been opposing the payment.

Alderman Sam Whitmer called for a separation of the engineering firm bill from the claim list Monday night because, he said, he wanted a report from the finance committee on what had happened to remove previous opposition.

Was Special Project
The argument revolved around a claim for services in surveying right of way along the Wabash railroad from 22nd street to Pontoon Road—a project specially set up and assigned to Research Planning and Design in 1968.

The firm later turned in a bill for $3000 for the job and it was turned down. Subsequently, the claim was reduced to $1000, the amount originally agreed upon for the survey. The council, however, repeatedly separated the claim from others and refused payment.

Following Whitmer's separation of the bill in Monday night's meeting, Alderman Paul Schuler, a member of the Finance Committee, explained that the matter had been discussed with Kleeberger, and the work had been done and that the bill should be paid.

Schuler moved for payment of the claim. Mayor Partney remarked that approval of his motion would make no difference "because I won't pay it anyway." The mayor must sign all checks for payment of payrolls and claims. Partney declared Schuler's motion out of order, but the council voted 9 to 3 to override his ruling.

The mayor reminded the council that it had no funds for payment of engineering projects outside the scope of motor fuel tax work. The Research Planning firm is hired as a consulting engineer for work on motor fuel tax projects, and not as a city engineer.

No Means of Payment
Partney also pointed out that the council in 1969 rescinded that part of its engineering ordinance providing for paying engineering fees and that there is no existing law under which the firm can be paid out of regular city funds for engineering services.

Alderman Thomas Boker asked if the ordinance could be revised. Partney replied that would not help since the ordinance applies to a city engineer. Kleeberger, Partney said, is not the city engineer.

"The city engineer is appointed by me, and I have not appointed him," Partney said.

On a motion by Walter Nunn, the council deferred action on a recommendation by the City Plan Commission that a request for rezoning of a tract of land on the south side of Pontoon Road, at Maryville Road, be denied.

Noah said the tract is considered for use as a shopping center development "and could mean a lot of revenue to the city in taxes."

The Plan Commission voted 6 to 2 against approving rezoning of the site from R-3, R-4 and R-5 to a C-3 Commercial district, and recommended that the council concur in the action. The request for the rezoning was made by Maurice Dailey, attorney representing the First Granite City National Bank.

Several council members ask for details concerning the proposed development, but Nunn said he had none except that the tract was to be used for a shopping center. Whitmer asked that all council members be sent a description of the proposed project to enable them to act later on the zoning request.

Alderman William Dallas objected a deferral on another Finance Commission recommendation for denial of a request for rezoning to permit operation of a beauty shop at 209 Lee Ave. rezoning from R-1 to C-1 had been requested by Mrs. Joyce Thompson.

A report by Research Planning and Design which recommended acceptance by the city of all sanitary sewers in the Third Addition of Wilson Park Estates was accepted by the council.

Alderman Clyde Boyd reported that appraisal work is being completed on the former Murdoch Distributing building at Franklin and Amos Avenues, which the city may purchase for use as a fire station.

Boyd suggested that all members of the council make an inspection of the property so they will be able to discuss the possible purchase of the site when the matter comes before the council.

Bids were received from three auto agencies to provide three police cars. Net price offered were: Ellodge Motors Co.,

$504; B. E. Hocht Co., $989; and Brewer Motor Co., $904. The bids were referred to the Police Committee for recommendations. Bids for furnishing sirens and walkie-talkies for the police department also were referred to the committee.

Citizens Group Urges Constitution Victory

A citizens committee to promote approval of the proposed new Illinois Constitution at the polls Dec. 15, is being formed throughout the state and co-chairmen of the group have been appointed.

A joint statement was issued by William J. Kuhfuss, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, and Kingman Douglas Jr., executive vice president of DuPont Flore Forgan, Inc., co-chairmen, in which they said, "We are pleased with the widespread support given the 1970 Constitution by news media and leaders from the two major political parties."

The proposed new Constitution has received the endorsement of 39 organizations including the Republican Party, the Illinois Education Association and the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce. The major opponent is the AFL-CIO which feels the income tax provision it contains is "industry oriented."

SIU College Democrats Plan Poster Clean-Up

Southern Illinois University College Democrats from the local southwestern campus will be working in the Quad-City area this weekend removing the remnants of campaign posters left from the Nov. 3 general election on telephone poles, power poles and from state property along thoroughfares.

The anti-litter project has won approval of the environmental organization at the SIU-SW campus, who along with several fraternity and sorority members, plans to assist the College Democratic group.

Leo Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lanzo Smith, 2712 Angela Drive, is spearheading the drive to "clean-up campaign posters." Election signs posted by candidates of both political parties will be picked up by the college students, the chairman said.

A senior majoring in government and political science, the Granite City student serves as vice president of the SIU-SW College Democrats. During his high school years, Smith was employed part-time at the Press-Record.

A similar clean-up project conducted last weekend in the Edwardsville area, resulted in a truck load of posters and debris," the group's spokesman said. Permission was given by Jack Clifford, a Madison County official, to dump the collected refuse at an area landfill, Smith reported.

Featured Artists
The Chords Unlimited Quartet was organized in September, 1968 and qualified for their first competition in the Illinois District Preliminary contest the following April.

Representing their district in the 31st International Quartet Competition in June 1969, the group earned quarter-finalist honors. The show's guest artists were crowned 1969-70 Illinois District Champions in October, 1969, and were chosen to represent their district in the 1970 International Competition.

Three members of the Chords Unlimited Quartet reside in the Chicago area, with the fourth member, Bob Toby, tenor, from Merrillville, Ind. In order to rehearse, the distance traveled by the foursome exceeds 275 miles.

An ironworker by trade, Toby also is a member of the Hobart, Ind., Chorus of the Dunes, a group that contended in the International Chorus Competition. He previously sang with the "Sand Tones" and the "Back Door Four." He is married and has four children.

Other Members
Other members of the Chords Unlimited are Dick Johnson, lead and sometime baritone, and a member of the "Q" Suburban Chapter in Western Springs, Ill., where he serves as musical director. "Motivation and Retention of Students" will be the theme of the vocational workshop set for all day tomorrow at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, S. 4th St.

Visitors are expected to attend from Michigan State University Adult Education Center, together with educators from several technical-vocational schools in the surrounding area, according to Duane Rankin, VLTC director.

Principal speakers will include Dr. Robert Rusek of SIU-Edwardsville, and Dr. David Buckholdt of St. Louis.

A portion of the workshop will be devoted to a panel discussion by Larry Smith, representing the Black Egyptians of East St. Louis, Loyd Reed of the East St. Louis Black Panthers and educational chairman for the United Front, and Franklin Wooten of the Black Egyptians of Madison.

Rankin said the workshop is planned with the dual purpose of honoring adult vocational instructors for their accomplishments since the Venice-Lincoln Center was established in 1968 and to gain additional knowledge of the community and its current needs.

The theme of the meeting is of "vital interest to all those working in adult education field," he commented.

Regional Review--Plant Cutbacks, Start-Ups

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corp.)

News of layoffs and plant start-ups were part of the regional scene in mid-November. The Olin Corp. announced that nearly 500 employees will be laid off at the East Alton plant. The cutback results from a Department of Defense decision to not renew Olin's contract for 5.36 ammunition; the government plans to obtain its supply from government-owned facilities.

American Zinc Co. plant in Sauget returned to production Monday in anticipation of the settlement of the strike against General Motors; a significant amount of the zinc produced in this plant is used in the manufacture of automobiles. American Zinc has reported losses of over $500,000 for the third quarter of this year.

The settlement of the GM strike should help the A. O. Smith plant in Granite City, a major supplier of auto frames to Chevrolet in St. Louis.

Ten-Year Plan
A ten-year master plan for the Lewis and Clark Community College was presented to the college's board of trustees.

All of the major buildings on the Monticello College campus, which the Lewis and Clark Junior College District has agreed to purchase, will be retained, though some of them will be extensively remodelled.

The plan calls for the addition of six new structures, including a vocational-technical building.

two classrooms and a student center.

The ten-year plan is divided into three phases, with phase one, which contains the vocational-technical building, to be completed in 1973. Enrollment is projected to be 5,000 by 1980.

A $22 million bond issue to help finance construction of a $5.3 million area vocational center was rejected by voters of the Alton school district. Less than 5,000 voters turned down the bond issue, which would have been used to help build a vocational center on a 65-acre tract in Godfrey.

The Board of Education in East St. Louis and members of the teachers' union reopened face-to-face negotiations. Earlier, the entire negotiating team sponsored by the union attorney Rex Carr, stepped down as negotiators.

The school board is still attempting to operate schools on a two-shift basis without the union teachers. Charles Richards, a national representative of the American Federation of Teachers, and Charles Tique of the East St. Louis union are now the chief negotiators for the union.

The Metro East Chamber of Commerce Association agreed to support a suit which seeks to recover $19 million reportedly lost in the recently lifted federal highway fuel freeze.

The suit is by the Greater Alton Association of Commerce and others against the Secretary of the U. S. Department of Transportation and the Secretary of the U. S. Treasury.

The "Mecca" association also elected Albert Froemling of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce as president, and Howard Colquhoun of the Tri-Cities Chamber, secretary-treasurer.

Completion of the sanitary sewer system in the Belle-Valley Industrial Village southeast of Belleville was advocated with the installation of a factory-built sanitary sewer line.

Work on the sanitary sewer system at the 22-acre industrial park has been delayed by more than three months by unfavorable weather. The village is planned for light manufacturing, warehousing, research and commercial operations.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has charged Granite City Steel Co. with violating the old state air pollution act and the newly-established Environmental Protection Law.

through the operation of three coke ovens, a sintering plant, two blast furnaces, and a quenching tower.

The St. Clair County Public Building Commission has voted 3-2 to demolish the old St. Clair County Courthouse on the Public Square in Belleville and replace it with a new building.

A timetable for the beginning of the project has not yet been established. In April, the County Board voted 36-4 for demolition of the building.

In general news, the St. Clair County Zoning Board of Appeals has granted permission to Peabody Coal Co. to strip mine a 15-acre area in northwestern St. Clair County.

George H. Sternberg of Granite City was elected vice-chairman of Region Seven, Boy Scouts of America. Moss-American plans to add a cross-tie unloading and separating facility to its Venice plant; and the Alton and Granite City cross-country teams were two of 26 Illinois high schools which qualified for the Illinois state high school cross-country championships.

Warrior Cage Squad Sees Good Season

Better height and more depth should equal a better season for the Granite City High School Warrior basketball team this season.

The 1989 season cannot be considered bad as the Warriors had an overall record of 16-and-10 for the varsity. They finished third in the Southwestern Conference and lost in regionals to Collinsville.

Coach Don Detering commented, "This year we have what I feel is adequate height and good depth. What we are short on is varsity experience. We have four returning lettermen but John Pichers, 6-7 senior, has only limited experience."

The Warriors have been practicing since Oct. 1, but without the boys who also were out for football.

Although, according to the coach, it is a bit too early to tell, the starting lineup is shaping up. Mike DeRuntz, 6-4 senior, probably will be at center, although Rick Fren, 6-4 junior, is making a bid for that spot.

One forward position will be filled by Terry Ripka, 6-5 junior. The other forward position is a three-way battle between Chuck Kraus, 6-3 junior, Bob Swan, 6-4 senior, and Kevin Dyer, 6-2 junior.

John Ireland, 6-0 senior, and Joe Wallace, 6-0 junior, will be playing guard positions.

Bob Wiggins, 6-1 junior, is fighting hard for one of the starting guard spots and he doesn't care who he beats out.

Co-captains for the season are Mike DeRuntz and John Ireland.

Terry Ripka and Joe Wallace are showing real outstanding potential, according to Detering. The schedule has been improved some this season. The Warriors will play Belleville-

East for the first time on Jan. 16.

On Jan. 20, 21, 22, 23, the Warriors will be in the Salem Invitational tournament which is replacing the Dupo tournament.

Fight, Not Size Shown By Basketball Trojans

"It's not the size of the dog in the fight, it's the size of the fight in the dog," according to Madison High School Trojan basketball coach Larry Graham.

"On paper we don't look too good, but paper can be deceiving as the attitude, which is all important, is really great among the Trojan basketball players."

The Trojans appear fairly fast, but lack size and experience this year.

The only returning letterman is Douglas Griggs, 6-3 senior forward. Madison was to have a second letterman return, but due to a death in the family, Phillip Davis, who played guard, had to move out of town.

Who will be the starting five or even on the first ten is still the big question and it is too early to answer.

Clinton Burkhal, 6-1 junior, probably will play center, but he is being challenged by Henry Rhodes, 6-3 senior who can also play forward. Larry Boyd, 6-2 senior, and Terrance Young, 6-1 junior, are in a battle for forward slots.

A very close four-way competition has developed for the guard positions. Trying for the starting guard positions are Darrell Fletcher, 6-0 senior; Ed Chandler, 5-10 junior; Jerry Bethalto, 6-3 sophomore; and Vernell Gasper, 5-10 junior.

Wounded GI, Twin Brothers in Mail Call

Today's edition of "Yule Mail Call" includes the addresses of a paratrooper now serving a second tour in Vietnam, where he was wounded two years ago; Granite City twins serving in the Army; a recent graduate of the Naval Medical School at Bethesda, Md.; and an airman assigned to Kincheloe AFB in Michigan.

Individuals and clubs are invited to clip-out the names and addresses of Quad-City servicemen appearing in each issue of the Press-Record, adding the names to their personal Christmas mailing lists.

Through the newspaper's pre-Christmas project, it is hoped that readers will send cards, letters or gifts to the Armed Forces members, thereby helping to lighten their spirits while away from home and loved ones during the coming holiday season.

Addresses of local servicemen still are being accepted for inclusion in Yule Mail Call. Those submitting a serviceman or woman's name are asked to write the details on a postal card, letter or slip of paper and mail or bring the information to the Press-Record office, 1818 Delmar avenue.

Now serving in Vietnam with the 173rd Airborne Brigade, Sgt. John D. Ortolano, 21, returned to Southeast Asia on Aug. 11. He was seriously wounded in combat in September 1968 while member of the same Airborne Brigade, fighting near An Khe in the Central Vietnamese Highlands.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ames, 3238 Carlson ave., Sgt. Ortolano recently was awarded the Air Medal for participation in aerial flights over the Republic of Vietnam. A related story appears elsewhere in this issue.

The 18-year-old twin grandsons of Mrs. Josefa Galvan, 1728 Maple St., now serving in the U.S. Army also are listed today.

Pfc. Richie A. Serrano volunteered for Army duty in July 1969 and was assigned to the 86th Transportation Company in Vietnam three months ago. He attended Granite City High School before entering the service.

His twin brother, Pvt. Ricky N. Serrano, joined the Army in August following his graduation from the local high school. He completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., two weeks ago and is now undergoing Advanced Infantry Training at the same military base.

The Serrano youths were reared by their grandmother since the death of their father 12 years ago.

A. T. (Ted) Bourbon recently was graduated from the Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Md., with the rank of Hospital Corpsman Third Class. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bourbon, 2738 Washington ave., attended the graduation ceremonies.

Stationed at the Bethesda medical center the past year, the local sailor completed training as a laboratory medical technologist. He has since been transferred to the Naval Hospital at Long Beach, Calif., where he expects to remain for the next two years.

Airman Ricky L. Singleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Berlin Singleton, 2747 Sunset Drive, is on duty at Kincheloe Air Force Base in Michigan.

He entered the service last April 21 and spent his basic training phase at Lackland AFB, followed with a six-week instruction period at Sheppard AFB, Tex. A 1969 graduate of Granite City High School, the airman was employed at Clark Oil Co., on Namekiki Road, before joining the Air Force.

Those contributing names to Yule Mail Call are asked to identify themselves on the postal card or letter in the event complex unit numbers require verification. If the area of service overseas is noted, it will appear in parenthesis following the official address.

St. Elizabeth Nurses Attend Iowa Conference

Sister Agnes Marie and Sister Mary Jerome of St. Elizabeth Hospital were among nurses who attended a conference last weekend at the University of Iowa on meeting the nursing needs of the diabetic patient.

Mary Fuller, director of nursing at Mercy Hospital, Iowa City, was principal consultant for the conference which was sponsored by the University of Iowa College of Nursing. Others taking part in the program included faculty and staff members of the U of I Colleges of Medicine and Nursing.

Daughter Born

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry W. Baggett, 1741 Primrose Ave., are announcing the birth of a daughter, Melissa Anne, Nov. 2 at St. Mary's Hospital in Richmond Heights, Mo. They have a son, David, 3 years old. Mrs. Baggett is the former Gail Reeves, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Reeves, 2250 Gary Ave.

Weekend Bread Sale To Aid March of Dimes

A boost in contributions to the 1971 March of Dimes fund-raising drive in Madison is expected to be given this weekend through a pre-campaign "bread sale" Friday evening and Saturday, Mrs. Julia Voloski, Madison city chairman, announced today.

Patrons at two businesses will be asked to donate to the March of Dimes in exchange for a specially-wrapped loaf of bread. Volunteer salesladies from the Madison Junior Service Club will be on hand to sell the bread Friday evening and Saturday at Schenck Bros. Market, 12th St. and Madison Ave., and on Saturday morning at the First National Bank in Madison, Sixth St. and Madison.

The club will again spearhead the "Mothers' Porchlight March," set for January, in addition to the bread sale.

A successful bread sale was conducted by the same group last year for the first time in the Quad-Cities.

Press-Record's... YULE MAIL CALL (Clip and Save)

Quad-City servicemen and women stationed around the world, whose names and addresses are being published in each issue of the Press-Record as a special pre-Christmas public service. It is suggested that readers clip-out and retain the lists as they appear. Local residents are invited to include the servicemen on their Christmas mailing list and send greeting cards, letters or packages, thereby helping to brighten the coming holiday season for military personnel who are a way from their homes and families. Early mailing is recommended.

Educators Review Problems, Trends At St. Teresa's

More than fifty educators gathered at St. Teresa Academy recently to discuss problems and trends in education with possible solutions in innovative educational systems.

Facilitators for the day were Educational Coordinator representatives Jim Smith and Lloyd Kline, former professors at the University of Massachusetts, and full-time co-workers with the founder of modular scheduling, Dwight Allen.

St. Teresa Academy was chosen as the site of the meeting for the Midwest because it is one of the few schools in the midstate area currently operating from this innovative base.

Films and discussions during the all-day meeting dealt with preparing for modular variable scheduling, developing variable course structures, criteria for evaluating change, small-group instruction and the formulating of behavioral objectives.

It was pointed out that there should be "many splinters in the board of education" that is, as many different approaches as possible, from the very traditional to the very free and liberal, from an all-required to an all-selective curriculum.

Subject matter barriers should be broken down to structure learning opportunities outside the school, in the local community, as well as in the organized course.

School is not a building, but a concept. What is needed is the possibility of contributing into and taking knowledge out of a common store, according to need.

More than half of the participants in this program were faculty members of St. Teresa Academy.

Capping Ceremony Held By Senior Troop 858

Senior Girl Scout Troop 858 held a capping ceremony Monday evening in the all-purpose room of Frohardt School, with Mrs. Wanda MacDonough, advisor, conducting the meeting.

Special guests introduced were Miss Marguerite Odell, training administrator; Miss Judy McCarthy, District 4 advisor; and Mrs. Helrich.

Mrs. MacDonough gave a brief talk on scouting and listed each girl's achievements in Cadette Scouts.

Receiving First Class Badges were Karen Gagich, Pat Hines, Karen MacDonough, Sheila Mangan and Pat Schneckle.

They took part in a candle-light rededication ceremony and the eight indispensable were given, along with Debbie Lowell, Cheri Schneckle and Susan Vinson.

The girls were capped by their mothers or other relatives. Other guests attending were Mrs. Gagich, Edna Helrich, Maureen Legate, Mrs. Lowell, Mrs. Mangan, Mrs. Robins, Mrs. Schneckle, Mrs. Stephens and Vicky Wilson.

Sons of Legion Plan Canned Goods Drive

Jim Howell, commander of Sons of the American Legion Post 113 of Granite City, has announced that the unit will conduct a canned goods drive with proceeds to go to needy families through the Salvation Army.

Two container boxes will be on hand during the week and three on weekends at the American Legion post home beginning the first of December.

Also announced was that the squadron will attend a county meeting Dec. 9 at Wood River. Other business discussed was the squadron banquet at the Heritage House in St. Louis.

The S.A.L. holds its meetings at 2 p.m. on the first and third Sundays of each month on the second floor of the Legion post home.

New Election Called For SIU-SW Senate

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern students will vote for senators next week—the second election this month for senatorial seats.

Last week's elections were ruled invalid by the Student Activities Election Board.

The decision followed a special hearing when grievances by several candidates were presented to the board. According to Myron Thompson, spokesman for the Election Board, reasons for the invalidation were special notices on posters at polls; too much literature around polls; too few poll watchers; ballots not initiated, and incorrect statement of names.

The new election dates are Nov. 23 and 24; results will be announced on Nov. 25. Seven senatorial seats are to be filled at the election.

YOUTH INVOLVEMENT IN POLITICS being discussed by Amerik A. Kachigian, assistant state's attorney, with teenagers at last Saturday's YMCA Teen Town dance.

YMCA World Service Fund Campaign to Start

"Despite expansion of YMCA services at home, especially in the turbulent times of the nation, as our first priority today, the YMCA's of America are determined to advance YMCA work overseas as well."

Charles Hasse, campaign director said today.

His statement marked the launching of the area YMCA's 1970 World Service campaign for $350 to help strengthen "Y" operations around the world. The week of Nov. 22-28 has been set aside for the campaign.

The nationwide goal is more than $2 million. Hasse said, with YMCA's throughout the country each taking a share.

The local "Y" has various groups within its organization that will assist in raising money. Indian Guides and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs will be conducting projects. Board and adult members are being contacted for donations.

All Health Club members are being asked to make a contribution so they may get a "star" beside their name on a poster hanging in the Health Club. The goal is to get all 135 names started, with $1 minimum contributions.

All proceeds from Friday night's Teen Town dance will be donated to World Service.

280 Attend Fifth Quarter, Honor Gridders, Coach

About 280 Granite City High School students attended the final football Fifth Quarter last Friday in the Fellowship Hall of the First Assembly of God Church following the Granite City-Bellefonte game.

A dinner was served and a program of skits, four awards and a plaque were presented.

Sponsored by Young Life, the event honored the football coaching staff. The theme was "This is Your Life," honoring Warrior John Turfott.

Warriors receiving trophies were senior Don Harris, "Deep Bootlegger" award; senior Mark Mizerka, "Metro Moe" award; junior Stan Stajduhar, "Mr. Buttonhood" award; and senior Kim Gauen, "Coach's Pet" award.

In a special presentation by the captains of the football team and Young Life, Coach Wayne Williams was given a silver-plated plaque with the names of all team members inscribed upon it as a permanent memory of this year's season record of 8-1.

Another series of basketball Fifth Quarters will be presented by Young Life, scheduled to start Friday, Dec. 18, following the GC-Edwardsville game.

Honoring the basketball team, a series of skits and awards will be presented and a dinner will be served. Admission will remain the same at 75 cents per person or $1.25 per couple.

SIU Among Top Five In Black Enrollment

Southern Illinois University is among the top five colleges and universities in the nation in the number of black students enrolled. There are an estimated 3,000 on the Carbondale and Southern campuses.

Charges that these students are being discriminated against in state and federal financial assistance programs are without foundation, according to an extensive survey conducted by a team headed by Roy W. Pettigrew, black counselor in the SIU Student Work and Financial Assistance office.

The survey, based on the 1969-70 school year, showed that about 63% of black students at SIU received some form of financial aid—scholarships, grants, loans, part-time work—compared to about 56% of the student body at large.

Brazilian composer Camargo Guarnieri will speak at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Communications Building Theater. His lecture-recital on Brazilian music is open to the public admission free.

Guarnieri is a descendant of the famous Guarneri violin-making family of Italy. His father emigrated to Brazil, where Camargo was born in 1897.

Largely self-taught, he became a professor of music at the Sao Paulo Conservatory at the age of 23 and at age 31 he received a three-year scholarship to study in Paris.

After returning to Sao Paulo he won first prize from the Fleischer Collection in Philadelphia for his violin concerto and the Pan American Union invited him to the United States.

He has returned a number of times, conducting his works with the Boston, the Eastman-Rochester and other symphony orchestras.

State Park Attendance Up by Million Visitors

Summer attendance at state parks, memorials, conservation areas and boat access areas increased by more than a million visitors this year.

Theodore M. Kavadas, superintendent of the division of parks and memorials of the Illinois Department of Conservation, reported an attendance of 13,358,241 during June, July, August and September, 1,699,093 more than the 12,659,148 attendance for the same four months in 1969.

The increase is partly due to several newly developed facilities that were not open to the public last year. Kavadas said. Further development of many of these sites is planned in the future, he added.

New Areas Open

Some of the new recreational areas that are open or under development are Silver Springs near Plano, Des Plaines near Joliet, Douglas County Conservation Area near Newman, Edgewater Park in Chicago, Hennepin Canal Parkway near Sheffield, Old State Capitol in Springfield, Sangchris State Park, collapsed at 8:20 p.m. Monday at Nameoki Road and Shelbyville near Shelbyville.

Newly purchased areas are opened for public use as rapidly as facilities can be constructed and an adequate professional staff can be employed, Kavadas said.

Among state park recreational areas are 435,503 licensed hunters and 872,974 licensed fishermen.

Faces License Charge

Lawrence Martin, 30, of St. Louis, was arrested by Venice police at Broadway and Market Street at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday and was charged with driving without a driver's license. He was released under a $50 cash bail to appear in court at Madison Dec. 2.

Separation

Nameoki Township board voted unanimously for the desirability of a more adequate drainage district than (provided by) the present East Side Levee and Sanitary District which is controlled by St. Clair County.

"We concur with Mike Ebersold in his recommendations to separate Madison and St. Clair counties, but we also seek a more adequate appraisal of the entire drainage system," Whit-agencies "get together for a joint meeting to discuss our ideas, at the earliest possible date."

Dr. Lee told the Venice city council meeting Tuesday that he would take the lead in arranging such a meeting.

Ebersold told the Press-Record today that state legislation will be necessary to accomplish the separation, and that he is confident such a bill can be passed with the cooperation of area legislators.

The levee district operates on an annual budget of more than $2 million, with half of the budget assigned to payment of outstanding bond obligations.

members of the council has been highly critical of the large number of damage suits filed against the city, notified the city in a letter written by its attorney, Norman Kinder, that the city was negligent in that it permitted tree branches to obscure a stop sign on 21st Street at Ohio Avenue.

The notice came at a time when city council members have been demanding that City Attorney Leon Scroggins, who coincidentally is president of the Tri-City Bar Association, to set up a meeting with Bar Association officials in an effort to determine why Granite City is the subject of so many law suits resulting from accidents ranging from falls on cracked sidewalks to traffic accidents.

Notices of at least a half dozen such suits have been filed with the council during the past two months and council members have commented that "they seem to pick on Granite City, no one else has this number of law suits."

Dawes was not present at Monday night's council session. City Clerk Richard J. Stevens that he had an appointment with his physician who might appear at the meeting late. He did not appear.

Other council members made no comment on the letter from Attorney Kinder which was presented as a communication. The only action consisted of a motion by Alderman Roy Poulos who moved for a letter be referred to the city attorney to determine if this is a legal claim.

Retrospective to last July 1, the contract is the first agreement covering office personnel to be ratified by the Venice school board. Provisions call for a 10-step pay scale and various fringe benefits, including sick pay and an insurance program.

In other action Monday night, board members declined to accept a single bid received from a Litchfield firm for purchase of an eight or nine passenger vehicle to be used by the school nurse and to transport special education and other student groups on short distances.

School administrators were authorized to contact area firms to obtain comparison figures prior to purchasing a vehicle.

Sentencing of Levee Trustees Scheduled Dec. 1

Four trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District convicted of charges of misconduct in office are to appear for sentencing in circuit court at Belleville on Dec. 1, it was reported Tuesday after a defense counsel motion to set aside the guilty verdict was denied.

The sentencing date was set by Associate Circuit Judge Alvin Maes who also denied a request by defense attorneys to file additional post trial motions. Judge Maes pointed out the 30-day period for filing motions in the case had expired.

He did permit Defense Attorney John Hoban to file for probation for the trustees and ordered a presentence investigation for each trustee.

The four trustees are Morris Campbell, president of the board, and board members Lawrence Tolar and George Duff, of East St. Louis, and William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice. Campbell also is of East St. Louis.

They were convicted on five counts of a grand jury indictment returned last March charging the trustees awarded $169,000 worth of repair contracts without competitive bidding and for paying more than the limits of $3500 per year in attorney fees permitted by law.

Proclamation Issued For Natl. Bible Week

A proclamation urging all persons of all faiths to observe National Bible Week which begins Sunday and continues through Nov. 29 was issued Tuesday by Mayor Donald Partney.

The text of the proclamation: "Whereas, the Bible continues to be the world's best-selling book, appearing in more than a thousand languages and dialects; and

"Whereas, ironically, ignorance about the Bible and the lessons is has for modern man and his problems; and

"Whereas, new translations and new guides to Bible study provide fresh readability and help for people of all ages, races and creeds; and

"Whereas, it is imperative for modern man confused and perplexed by rapid technological and social changes to understand the roots of his moral and spiritual belief-system;

"Now, Therefore, I, Donald Partney, Mayor of the City of Granite City, Illinois, do hereby proclaim the week of Nov. 22 through Nov. 29, 1970 as Bible Week, launching Worldwide Bible Reading from Thanksgiving to Christmas, 1970, in Granite City, Illinois, and urge all men, women and children of all faiths to observe the week by reading the Scriptures and setting up a plan of regular examination of the Foundation Book of the Judeo-Christian heritage."

5th Annual Pride, Inc. Dinner Meeting Dec. 2

Dr. Gail E. Meyers, president of Monticello College and Lewis & Clark Junior College, Godfrey, has been named chairman of the Fifth Annual Pride, Inc. dinner meeting, which will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 2, in the dining hall of Monticello College. Dr. Gordon F. Moore, Pride president, has announced.

This year the Pride annual dinner meeting is being held in conjunction with the first environmental lecture series sponsored by Monticello College in cooperation with Pride under a grant from the S & H Foundation.

Pride, Inc. is a non-profit, educational organization dedicated to the promotion of beautification in the 16 communities surrounding the Alton Lake area.

Dr. S. Wesley Jackson, of Kansas Wesleyan University, a noted authority on Ecology, will give the featured address at Hatheway Hall at 8:15 p.m. that evening. His talk "Can Man Survive?" is free to the public and everyone is encouraged to attend.

Booklet Explains How Plants Fight Pollution

In an attempt to help individuals fight environmental deterioration and pollution, a booklet, "Green Survival and the Environmental Crisis," is being distributed in this area by Hame Nursery, 2900 Madison Ave.

The booklet explains how living plants can be used for noise abatement, air and water purification and abatement of "visual pollution." Wayne Shelton, manager of the Granite City nursery commented, "more than ever we realize that natural beauty has a unique capacity to lift man's spirit, to brighten his outlook, and we realize that it is visual pollution which gives rise to much of the frustration and tension which tortures our minds."

"Green Survival and the Environmental Crisis" is published by the American Association of Nurserymen and copies are available free of charge at the local nursery.

Freight City Plan Studied

The St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Authority agreed yesterday to consider the funding of a $65 million study by the St. Louis Regional Industrial Development Corporation to determine the economic feasibility of making the proposed new metropolitan airport an intermodal facility capable of meeting modern trends in transportation of materials.

A presentation on the proposed study was made at the meeting by D. Reid Ross, executive vice president of RIDC, who said that the feasibility of the "Freight City" concept set forth by U.S. Sen. Charles McNichols would be considered in the study.

The "Freight City" concept would call for a centrally planned use of the one-mile buffer zone around the proposed airport and would utilize modern ideas in the placement of railroads, highways, roads, trucking terminals and pipelines to assure the efficient transfer of materials from one mode to another at the airport.

The board also agreed to ask Argon National Laboratories and the Illinois Institute of Technology to prepare presentations to help the board choose an organization to conduct an environmental study in conjunction with selection of an airport site. The study would consider the possible effect of a new airport on the environment at several possible sites.

The board approved a proposal by Howard Kaseberg of Granite City, a member of the board, to write to seven companies for resumes of their past work in the environmental study area, to be used in the selection of an organization to conduct the study.

Air Pollution Problems Outlined to Explorers

Henry S. Bieniecki, chairman of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board, told members of the Explorer Post meeting at Miles Laboratories Thursday night that the local pollution board, without full time personnel, "is like a police department without policemen."

He said the great need locally is for a full-time assistant to Prof. Erwin C. Hoelscher, technical secretary, which can only be financed through a federal grant. He said the present grant application for federal funds must be approved by the state, but that Clarence Klassen, director of the state Environmental Protection Agency, has "walked two hours already... and what is really needed is a new pitcher."

Plan Thanksgiving Holiday Trips Early--Veizer

Planning Thanksgiving trips will be the order of the day for many families the next few days, prompting Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer to remind drivers of their responsibilities in holiday traffic.

"Figure out a sensible schedule, and stick with it," Chief Veizer suggested. "Avoid peak traffic loads and make frequent rest stops for both driver and family."

While you can't predict the weather, it's a good idea, he added, to be ready to call off your trip if a winter storm threatens. Thanksgiving trips often coincide with our first severe weather.

Another way to avoid a troublesome trip is to have your car's safety equipment checked before-hand by a competent mechanic, according to the chief and the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Lights, tires, brakes, defroster, windshield wipers and washer, and engine performance must all be in top condition, they warn.

Chief Veizer also had timely suggestions about emergency equipment that should be in the car--sand or cinders, a shovel, tow chain, reinforced tire chains, booster cables, flares or other emergency lighting equipment.

The chief concluded with this pledge: "Granite City's police will be out full-force to keep traffic flowing smoothly. Be sure you, too, will be able to do your part."

Methodist Village Filled to Capacity: Annual Bazaar Tomorrow, Saturday

The annual bazaar at the United Methodist Village, 1616 Cedar St., Lawrenceville will be held Friday, Nov. 20, and Saturday, Nov. 21, with hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Ray Henley of Granite City, an insurance executive, is a new member of the United Methodist Village board.

Most of the articles on sale at the bazaar have been carefully designed and completed by the residents during the year, with a few donations from interested persons.

Baked goods and hand-made aprons have always been popular items. This year's apron collection is large, colorful and varied. Home-made breads, cakes, cookies, pies, both soft and fruit, and noodles are among the many items to be sold.

Handmade quilts, pieced, patchwork, appliqued and embroidered, both twin-size and double-size quilts, will be for sale. There will be several hand-finished baby size quilts in delicate pastel shades.

The crafts class has completed Christmas gifts and decorations of all descriptions, including many ceramic items.

A large variety of hand-embroidered pillowcases, hand braided rugs, and a collection of hand-made dolls are being completed for the event.

Board members have just taken part in consecration of newly-built cottages. The cluster of three cottages is completed and comprises the first part of construction planned for the village during the next few years. The consecration service was led by the Rev. Dr. E. M. Dycus, administrator of the village.

The board was given a financial report on the building program up to the present time. The total cost has been $144,000, and this amount included the architect's fee, surveying of ground purchased previously, installation of sewer and water drainage, bringing a water line to the project, construction of a street, paving of drives and general landscaping.

"These items will take care of much of the extra work in connection with future building," Dr. Dycus reports. The new cottages have electric heat, air-conditioning, carpeted floors and complete insulation.

Officers of the board are the Rev. James W. Owens of Olney, president; Dr. Dale Harmon of Robinson, vice-president; Garland Carpenter of Mount Carmel, treasurer; and Robert Hasler of Vandalla, secretary.

New board members besides Henley are James M. Withrow, executive vice-president of the Bank of Mount Carmel; the Rev. Raymond Van Giesen, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, Lawrenceville; the Rev. Ivan Lively, pastor of the Grace United Methodist Church, Salem; and the Rev. Boyd Wagner, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, Wood River.

'Identity Search' to Be Topic

"We find a brightness and meaning in human life by turning to God as our real origin and source of identity," says a Christian Science lecturer. This approach to life will be discussed here at 8 p.m. tomorrow, when Norman B. Holmes, C.S.B., will speak at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 2560 Delmar Ave.

The public is welcome to attend the free lecture, titled "Our Search for Identity."

Holmes is a graduate of Northwestern University. After spending several years in the banking business in Chicago, he served nearly 13 years on active duty as a chaplain in the U. S. Navy during World War II and the Korean War.

Spec. Stewart, whose wife, Edythe, also lives at 4949 Lakeview Drive, is a message clerk in the depot's administration services division. He entered the Army in September 1969 and was last stationed at Fort Ord, Calif. The specialist is a 1968 graduate of Granite City High School.

'Mr. Guitar' of Musical Fame Builds Studio Here

Herb Sadler, a former resident of Madison, whose musical talent has earned him the name "Mr. Guitar," has returned to the Quad-Cities where he is building a recording studio to open soon.

Sadler has made his mark in the musical world, having toured extensively with the Ike & Tina Turner Revue and performed with such well known names in music as Ray Charles, the Supremes, James Brown, Bobby Darin, Joe Tex and many others.

While in this area, Sadler became known with his own group as Herb Sadler and His Emperors of Rhythm Orchestra. They played in this area from 1961, when Sadler graduated from Madison High School, until 1964, when he first joined with Ike and Tina Turner for a 10-month series of tours of the United States and Canada.

With the group, he made four appearances on the Shindig television show and appeared in the T.N.T. Award Show, a full length motion picture honoring performers who received international awards for pop and rock music in 1965.

Worked at Paramount. In March of 1965, Sadler accepted a position as staff guitarist at Paramount Motion Pictures. He held the position four months, but in July of that year decided to leave Paramount to become lead guitarist for Ray Charles.

After two months with Charles he returned to the Quad-Cities for a three-week rest and then rejoined the Ike and Tina Turner for a two month European tour with the Rolling Stones. The show set new attendance records in England, some of which still stand. They returned to the United States and completed a four month tour here.

In 1967 Sadler took another U. S. and Canadian tour and in 1968 he returned to Europe to appear in a four and one-half television special from Amsterdam, Holland, honoring the top acts in the world which produced hit records during 1967, Ike and Tina Turner were honored for two hits that year.

HERB SADLER

A popular "back-up" man, Sadler has recorded for almost every big name in the rock, pop and soul fields and has played on 14 single records that have sold more than 1 million copies each and has been on ten best selling albums.

He is looked upon by most in the music business as one of the top 25 guitarists in the country, pop and rhythm and blues fields and is constantly in demand for recording sessions and tours.

Sadler prefers to remain in this area and perform with the Emperors of Rhythm which reformed in 1968. The group now plays in St. Louis, Springfield, Ill. and Mo. Kansas City, and surrounding cities. He is also playing regularly in the Quad-Cities, appearing Wednesday nights at the Luna Cafe in Mitchell and Thursday nights at the University Lounge in Glen Carbon.

Sadler is constantly working with teenage bands in the Quad-City area, helping them get into the entertainment business. He is hoping that when his recording studio is completed he will be able to help local groups produce hit records and make this area known for the talent it produces.

Urban Leagues Cite 'Crisis Of Commitment'

Representatives of the National Urban League's 97 local-level affiliates, held an unprecedented emergency session for two days in St. Louis, cited a "crisis of commitment across America" in the country's "inability to seriously deal with increasing domestic turmoil."

Whitney M. Young Jr., national executive director, underscored the seriousness of the problem by calling for a minimum of 50% increase in United Way allocations to Urban Leagues immediately, with additional allocations to be requested in subsequent campaigns.

"The Urban League is the only full-time, private race-relations agency supported by the United Way across the country, and yet we receive only 1 1/2% of the allocations from the United Funds and Chests. We question the seriousness of local communities to do anything meaningful about the growing crisis in our cities," he said.

"Unemployment is at an all time high in the minority community; hopelessness and despair are also at an all time high; and yet United Way is asking us to deal with these problems with financial commitments that are at an all-time low relative to our need to serve people. We cannot and will not continue to participate in this 'fraud' being perpetrated on the American public."

60-Year Record
"The Urban League has been a constructive and responsible force for over 60 years in this country. Its effectiveness with limited resources only underscores what it could do with adequate funding."

He said a 50% fund boost would cause "agonizing reappraisal on the part of the Funds, but it represents a relatively minor agony compared to the real pain presently suffered by the nation's disadvantaged."

"The time has come," Young said, "to stop treating the nation's ills as though they don't exist, or exist as minor problems. We are facing problems of monumental proportions which must be met with drastic answers."

"The country should know that the Urban League is not being supported by the United Way in a way that makes it possible for us to serve the community with a clear conscience."

Sam H. Jones, executive director of the Indianapolis Urban League and head of the council of all local executive directors, said local executives and board presidents shared Young's view of the crisis.

"The Urban League is a strong and viable national movement," Jones said, "and we know that if we stood united in this crisis that United Ways in every local community would have to sit up and take real notice. I believe we have served that notice. It is now up to United Ways to respond."

Vocational-Technical Training Facilities Near Saturation; Report Urges Expansion

Vocational-technical educational facilities in the bi-state St. Louis metropolitan area have reached a near-saturation point in meeting the occupational needs of a growing population and an ever-changing labor market, according to a report released by the St. Louis Regional Industrial Development Corporation (RIDC).

The report, which documents a comprehensive, year-long survey by RIDC of vocational-technical education resources in the region, states that the occupational programs offered by the region's technical high and area vocational schools, as well as junior colleges, are currently operating at near capacity and many existing facilities are expected to be completely filled in a relatively short time.

The RIDC study was sponsored by the St. Louis Board of Education, St. Louis County Special School District, St. Louis County Junior College District, Missouri Department of Education and Southern Illinois University. Several actions have been proposed as a result of the survey, including establishment of additional technical high schools and vocational training centers and expansion of vocational courses in general high school curricula.

Rankin Appointed
In relation to the study, RIDC Executive Vice President D. Reid Ross last week announced the formation of a new Industry-Education Councils and appointment to the committee of K. Duane Rankin, administrator of the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, 8. 4th St., Venice.

Rankin has headed the faculty at the Quad-City area adult vocational school the past 2½ years. Previously, he was industrial arts instructor at Venice High School since 1966.

The Venice-Lincoln Technical Center began full-time day classes in June 1968 after operating several months on a part-time, "evening-only" basis. Operations at the center later were expanded to day and night sessions.

Programs ranging from secretarial to data processing courses and child care to personal service-nurses aide training are available to all Quad-Cityans at the school. Nominal fees are charged, with all courses offered without cost to eligible students.

Also named to the special committee was Sherwood Dees of Springfield, director of Vocational Education and Rehabilitation in the Illinois Office of Public Instruction.

RIDC Recommends
Based on the study findings, RIDC has made the following recommendations:

1. That the technical high schools, area vocational schools and area junior colleges continue to expand their programs and facilities selectively to meet the occupational needs of business and industry.

2. That additional technical high schools be established and located so all high school students throughout the region have reasonably easy access to their programs.

3. That as these additional schools are established, the general high schools expand their pre-vocational courses;

4. That cooperative work programs be broadened and expanded in the general high schools and that business and industry make more of these opportunities available;

5. That an attempt be made to regionalize the approach to vocational education so a better allocation of students to facilities can be obtained within our labor market area;

6. That more publicity and recognition be given to lesser known vocational careers by schools and industry;

7. That more coordination and communication take place among the various types of vocational and technical schools;

8. That all other individuals and institutions in both the public and private sectors interested in vocational-technical training coordinate their efforts to make the educational system flexible and responsive to the ever-changing demands of the labor market.

That more activity take place to better inform students about vocational-technical education facilities and the opportunities that are available through such an education.

Widespread Support
The RIDC officials noted that the recommendations have a widespread support of the educational community throughout the region.

They urged implementation of the recommendations to open up alternative career opportunities to students who for various reasons will not pursue a college education as well as to provide assurance that a well-trained and flexible labor force will be responsive to the ever-changing demands of the regional labor market.

To help implement the recommendations by individuals and institutions interested in the vocational-technical training fields and to improve dissemination of information to prospective students, RIDC currently is developing an information program aimed at upgrading both the awareness and acceptance of vocational and technical education among students, parents, teachers, and guidance counselors, the official reported.

National Tea Sales Up But Earnings Decline

National Tea Co. reported Tuesday that sales for the 28 weeks ended Oct. 10 were $820,985,511, an increase of 2.2% over sales of $803,059,794 recorded in the like period last year. Earnings for the period were $2,168,273, or 29 cents per share as compared with $4,153,832, or 55 cents per share for the prior year.

Current year earnings have been adversely affected by the phase-out of the investment credit. Other negative factors include the impact of higher wage costs in every phase of our business, and in the second quarter the effect of strikes directly affecting operations, including those involving distribution of milk in the Chicago area, and the entire trucking industry. More recently, labor difficulties in the automotive industry have resulted in a weakness in sales and a reduction of profits in many of the markets in which the Company operates.

The Company also reported continued strength in the sales and earnings of Loblaw, Inc., its 71.49% owned subsidiary, which during this 28 week period had an increase of 29% in earnings on a sales increase of 12%.

SIU to Up Tuition $75 for Winter Term

Instate students being admitted to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale for the first time in the coming winter quarter have been sent personal letters informing them of tuition increases.

Following a legislative mandate by the last General Assembly, tuition was hiked at all state-supported schools. SIU's Board of Trustees approved an increase of $50 per quarter—to $117—effective with the winter term, 1971.

The change was too late for many official publications already off the presses or in the mail to prospective students.

With various fees added, the total quarterly tuition-fee package for Illinois students this winter will be $165.50.

Tuition increases for out-of-state students went into effect this fall. Non-residents now pay tuition and fees totaling $446.50.

Linda Chapman Article Appears in State Book

(Editors Note: The following article by Linda Chapman, a senior at Granite City High School, has been published by the Illinois Historical Library magazine "Illinois History," November edition. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Chapman, 2153 Delmar Ave.)

By LINDA CHAPMAN
A Kickapoo Warrior stood proudly overlooking the lodges of his people. He had a stern yet melancholy expression as he watched the packing of his people's possessions.

He thought of how the Kickapoo in Madison County, Ill., had been an independent and rugged people who believed themselves superior to the Potawatomi, Sauk and other Indian tribes of Illinois.

As the warrior sat contemplating the situation, a small Kickapoo child shuffled up to him and asked why his family must leave their home. This was the answer given:

"Many moons ago our people preferred to have little contact with the white man. Yet, as the years progressed, settlers came to our lands and began to take possession of them. Our old leaders tried to frighten them away by using forceful means. Raiding parties were sent out south to Kentucky and north to Peoria.

"It was customary in 1790 for our people to take captives. One raiding party sent to Kentucky at this time captured Mrs. James Gillham and sons Samuel and Clement while Mr. Gillham and son Isaac were plowing the fields.

"The Gillham captives were not mistreated, but there was little food. By the time they reached the Kickapoo village in Illinois, they were worn and starved.

"Of course, our warriors did not feel the hunger as readily, and they had more endurance. Five years later the family was reunited and eventually settled in Madison County, Ill., becoming one of the early families to settle there. Maybe it was wrong for our people to break up the family, but it was the white man who raided our land and often attacked our people."

Then, turning to the boy, the warrior said, "Since 1718 we have lived here in Illinois; now we are being forced from our lands. In July, 1819, our leaders signed a treaty at Edwardsville. The treaty stated that we would sell 10,000,000 acres of our lands in Illinois and Indiana to the white man.

"For our homes the white man has promised us $2,000 in silver annually for 15 successive years. Child, you see your family packing because the white man has won. Our young warriors wish to remain, but we must go. There are too many whites and too few of us."

The warrior had stopped speaking, and the child returned to his mother. The Kickapoo packed and left Madison County. Not until the 1830's, however, did all Kickapoo finally leave Illinois.

The James Stuart Chapter is in district No. 4 of the southern group which has six districts. Norman Ackerman of Belleville is district deputy.

Summer Study Tour Of Europe Planned

A novel summer study tour of the cradle of modern science—seven western European nations—has been announced by Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

The 10-week program called "The Evolution of Modern Chemistry" will take 20 students to such places as the English coal mine and nearby home where Sir Humphrey Davy invented the miner's safety lamp and the original laboratory of Antoine Lavoisier, called the father of modern chemistry. The aim, said tour director John Weitz, is to provide on-site insights to the origins and development of modern chemistry as well as subsequent scientific and cultural developments that stemmed from them.

England, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, West Germany, Switzerland and Italy will be tour stops during the June 23-Aug. 23 program.

'Y' Teen Town Books

'Fate' for Saturday

The YMCA Teen Town will feature "Fate" at its weekly dance Saturday night.

The group, relatively new, is led by Doug Phillips, formerly of "The Bossmen." Regular admission will be charged for the 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. dance.

The "Y" has booked "Seven" to play on Friday, Nov. 27. The dance is being held on Friday to avoid conflict with the high school's first basketball game of the season, scheduled for the next night. The dance will be held in the gym to accommodate an anticipated large crowd.

MARY HARRIS

Mary Harris Initiated Into Honor Society

Miss Mary Harris, a junior at Eastern Illinois University majoring in marketing, was initiated into an Chapter of Delta Mu Delta, National Honor Society.

The society was established to recognize and reward superior scholastic achievement by the students of business administration. Membership is open only to scholastically qualified students of good character. Undergraduate members are restricted to students registered in the programs of business administration who have achieved an average qualitative grade record of at least 3.2 out of 4.00.

Student membership must be selected in cumulative grade. Miss Harris is a 1988 graduate of the local high school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Harris, 2660 Adams St.

SIU-SW Talent Show to Feature Magic, Comedian

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's annual talent show will feature a hypnotist, a comedian, student talent, and Playboy bunnies. The show is scheduled for 9 to 11:45 p.m. Friday in Meridian Hall of the University Center.

Playboy bunnies will serve refreshments in Meridian Hall of the University Center, which will be transformed into a nightclub atmosphere for the talent show.

The talent show will feature acts by students on campus, including magic acts, vocal numbers and comedy routines from 8 to 9:30 p.m. Following the student talent show, headliners will perform from 9:30 to 11:45 p.m.

Headliners for the evening will be hypnotist John Kolisch and David Brenner, comedian. Kolisch has appeared on the Johnny Carson show, the Steve Allen show, and David Susskind's show. He has performed in colleges and universities throughout the country.

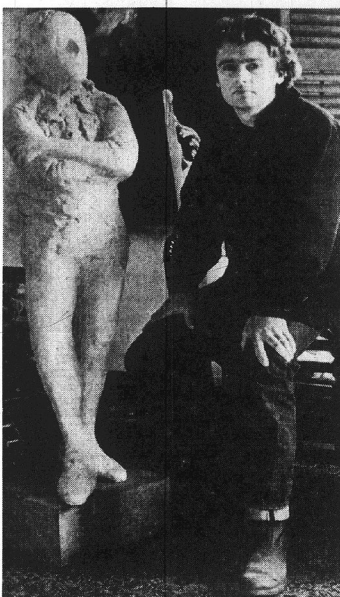

Brenner spent several years as a writer-producer-director for major television networks, but as he says, "I was sitting on the beach in the West Indies thinking about the turbulent times in which we live and how the world needs laughter. That's when I decided to give up my comfortable, financially rewarding career and start all over again, as a comedian." Brenner has appeared on Kraft Music Hall and the Mike Douglas show.

Master of ceremonies for the evening will be Bob Kochan, a professional magician, and student at SIU-SW. Tickets for the talent show will be $2 for individuals and $3 per couple, and may be purchased at the door.

Monitoring Devices Set for ISU Campus

Illinois State University, responding to the need for increased security and safety on the campus, will begin soon to install electronics monitoring devices inside several buildings. ISU officials emphasized that the purpose of the system is to monitor property—not people—and that students and faculty have been fully consulted in the proposed installations.

The system is basically a closed circuit television operation, which will be monitored in the Office of Security Services. Cameras will be located in the cashier's area of Hovey Hall, because of the large sums of money handled there; in the Computer Service in East Gate and Telephone Communications center in Cook Hall, so as to provide a constant watch on the expensive equipment in those two locations; in the General Services Building on west campus because of the equipment and service functions located there, and in the president's reception area in Hovey Hall.

SCULPTURE OBJECT by SIU-SW artist Paul Adkins who currently is displaying his works on the local campus.

Sculpture by SIU-SW Artist being Displayed

Most artists are sophisticated laborers, especially sculptors, according to Paul Adkins of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's art faculty. "I never felt I was an artist," Adkins says. "I just like to make objects." Before coming here in the fall of 1969, he was a freelance sculptor for two years in Lockport, N.Y.

A native of Metropolis, Ill., Adkins says he returned to his native state "because at SIU the work situation is open ended. I can be creative and yet I don't have to depend financially on creation. New York continues to be geared to high-pressure sales. In 1969 I had a good year financially, but I want to eat every year," he said wryly.

"Emphasis is wrong if feeling successful depends on selling your art," Adkins believes. "It seems to me the most beautiful way to retain your status as an artist and make a living, too, is to teach and be within the environment of a university. If an artist succumbs to pressures to be successful, he often disrupts his art."

A show by the SIU artist went on display this week in the lobby of the Communications Building. It will be on exhibit through Dec. 6. A reception in his honor was given on the opening day.

The bulk of his show contains sculptured human figures cast in a new medium, polyester resin, backed with fiberglass cloth. Adkins' master's thesis was on resin casting. Also included are two figures carved from wood and some fashioned in relief.

A former assistant professor at State University of New York, Adkins has exhibited at Landau-Alan Gallery in New York City, where his work was carried until Alan's retirement in 1969. Adkins explains that "carried" means his work was available at the gallery for buyers. "Most works," he says, "are sold from the back rooms, not from the art gallery. Alan carried work he liked. He was a low-pressure salesman, but he didn't make money."

Adkins received his B.F.A. degree in sculpture and drawing from the University of Illinois and his M.F.A. in sculpture and art history from Washington State University, where he was a graduate assistant and spent one summer as an instructor. Adkins spent 1965 in Italy on a Fulbright grant. Adkins and

State Starts Program On Boating for Youths

Illinois has embarked upon a program to improve the boating knowledge of young people, according to Ken Gruenewald, supervisor of the Illinois Department of Conservation's boating division.

The program, called "State of Illinois Young Boatmen's Safety Course," is directed toward the 7th, 8th and 9th grade levels. It is unique in that it is the first young peoples' boating course for public schools on a statewide basis, Gruenewald said.

He said the course will be available free to any school, complete with teacher training, audio-visual aids and voluntary help. Topics include first aid, equipment, swimming, how to buy a boat, materials used in boat construction, matching the motor to the boat, lifesaving devices and boating laws.

Present boating safety groups, such as the Coast Guard Auxiliary, Power Squadrons and the Red Cross, will play an important part in the program, Gruenewald said.

Members of the groups will train public school teachers to teach the course, he explained, and supplementary aids will include material from the groups' libraries.

The boating division is also offering a program for adults. At present an experimental class is being taught at Wabash Junior College in Mount Carmel. The class will be taught there next year on a full time basis.

Further information about the programs may be obtained from Bob Craine, boating education representative, State Office Building, 400 S. Spring St., Springfield.

Consumer Protection Program Taking Shape

A plan for a Public Interest Research Group (PIRG) aimed at protecting consumer interests is taking shape on the Carbondale campus of Southern Illinois University.

The plan was presented to university students, faculty and administrators by two representatives of a consumer advocate Ralph Nader. Nader is attempting to establish a nation-wide network of consumer-protection groups.

According to the plan, the PIRG would be locally oriented and autonomous. Nader would lend only advice and his experience to the SIU group, according to James Welch, one of "Nader's Raiders."

The thrust of the PIRG would be in the areas of tenant-landlord laws and environment and consumer problems, Welch said. The PIRG would be funded by student-assessed raise of $1 in their activity fees. This would allow the group to employ young lawyers. Many law school graduates are now seeking jobs in the consumer protection field, even though the salaries are low, Welch said.

SIU-SW Alumni Dinner To Spotlight Sports

The sports scene will be the topic of conversation when the St. Louis area alumni of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern get together at 6:30 p.m. Friday for dinner at Cheshire Inn, Clayton.

Special guests will be Henry Gallatin, director of intercollegiate athletics at SIU-SW; James Dudley, head basketball coach at the local campus; Paul Lamberti, head basketball coach at Carbondale; and Ron Jacober, president of the St. Louis Alumni Club and K&D-TV sports announcer. Each guest will discuss his particular program.

U. S. Study Supports Army Shutdown Order

Deactivation of the Granite City Army Depot should continue until a complete shutdown of the facility is accomplished by June 30 next year, according to findings of a survey by the General Accounting Office of the United States Comptroller General's department, which has been released by GAO.

The report was certified to Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) who had sought a complete investigation of the reasons motivating the shutdown order by the U. S. Department of Defense. The shutdown order was opposed by Quad-City area officials and civic leaders.

The Army conducted a study in November and December, 1969, of four depots which were candidates for closure, including the Granite City facility and depots at Sacramento, Calif.; Tobyhanna, Pa., and the Sharpe depot at Lethrop, Calif.

The four bases were chosen because they were the only ones with a small enough storage area to be expendable and were the only ones not having ammunition storage capabilities in the next few years are estimated to equal or exceed present storage capabilities, no depot having a primary or secondary mission of ammunition storage was considered for inactivation. The study concluded that the local facility should be closed as it was the most expendable of those studied.

Price Asked Review
In May, 1970, Cong. Price requested the General Accounting Office (GAO) to review certain aspects of the Army's justifications for closing the Depot here. The GAO study was completed recently and the findings released last week. It supported the majority of the Army's contentions and agreed that in any of the four depots had to be closed, Granite City was the prime candidate.

The Army report summarized the relative merits of the four depots as follows:
a. Granite City — Primary mission is storage of engineer material, secondary mission is storage of aviation items (both of which are also stored at other depots). Facility cannot be expanded due to total encroachment to depot boundaries. Has second highest labor cost of depot system. Has lowest productivity index of depots being considered. Not ideally suited for port shipments.

b. Sacramento — Sole West Coast facility having mission of electronic supply and maintenance; secondary mission is tank and automotive supply. Facilities can be expanded. Labor costs are high but acceptable. Close to West Coast ports. Productivity index is third highest of depots under consideration.

c. Sharpe — Primary and secondary mission are the same as Granite City. Facility can be expanded. Located at West Coast port. Acting as prime port of entry and processor of depots considered. Second highest productivity index.

d. Tobyhanna — Sole East Coast facility having mission of electronic supply and maintenance; secondary mission is engineer material storage (same items as Granite City and Sharpe). Facility can be expanded. Labor costs lowest of those considered. Productivity is the highest of the four depots. Close to East Coast ports.

Cost Study Made
After the Army report was issued, a detailed cost study was undertaken and in February this year the Army contended that closing the Granite City depot would result in an estimated annual savings of $10.1 million after the initial cost of $10.9-million for moving stocks and relocating personnel was paid.

The recent GAO report noted that the relocation expenses of tenant activities such as the General Services Administration and other agencies was not considered in either study and added that "the failure to include this information does distort the economic effect of the action on the Army and the Government as a whole."

In supporting the Army contention that the storage facilities here could be expended, the GAO said the projection of the volume of supplies and equipment to be returned to this country from Southeast Asia was overstated in the Army report and "it is not unlikely that additional depot closures may be justified by future studies."

Able to Expand
The GAO study does challenge the Army's contention that the Granite City facility could not be expanded due to total encroachment of the depot boundaries, and pointed out, according to Lt. Col. John A. Hengel, commanding officer of the depot, "each of the depot missions could be increased 100 percent without any acquisition of additional land."

The report also said, "we found that there is a substantial amount of vacant land contiguous to the depot property." Where the Granite City installation is concerned, it appears that the study group did not consider all the facts.

The report continues: "We cannot agree with the conclusion reached by the Army that the depot at Granite City was incapable of expansion." The Army report stated that Granite City's depot had the lowest productivity of the four under consideration, and the GAO agreed with this finding, but said that the factors considered by the Army in its study did not constitute the best measurement system available.

High Performance
"We believe that the productivity information provided by the Army study would have been more pertinent had it been based on all the relevant factors," the GAO said. The report also said it should be noted that, although the Granite City facility had the lowest productivity of the depots reviewed during the study period, it also shows that "for six of the eight quarters prior to the one used in the study, Granite City had the highest productivity index of performance."

We also are aware of statements made by depot employees that records have, in the past, been falsified through incorrect time charges," the GAO said, supporting its contention that the Army figures may not have been valid. Using their own scale of performance, the GAO ranked the four depots according to environment, space, facilities, performance-cost, transportation and capability-mission, and found the Granite City facility lowest in each category.

Since transportation is normally a major cost factor in the operation of supply facilities, the distance to ports was an important factor in the decision to close the Army depot, the GAO said. The nearest port for overseas shipment of materials from Granite City was New Orleans, La., a rail routing distance of 713 miles. This is considerably farther than the next points which was 110 miles from Tobyhanna Depot to Bayonne, N. J., and the local depot could hardly compare with the Sacramento and Sharpe depots, located only 88 and 64 miles respectively from Oakland, Calif.

Smaller Overseas Shipments
The GAO report added that Granite City had the smallest percentage of total shipments going overseas with 42.1 percent slated for abroad and the remainder earmarked for bases in the United States. "The Army study didn't include the transportation costs of items from the suppliers to the depots," the report said.

The GAO also said, "during our review of the shipping records, we noted numerous discrepancies. These ranged from simple mathematical errors to differences in the way summary figures were accumulated on quarterly reports for the same depot, and differences between various depots in the preparation of the reports."

They went on to say, "however, we do not believe that these clerical and administrative errors materially affect the comparison of depot overseas shipments to total shipments or the conclusions that can be drawn from that comparison."

Highest Labor Cost
The Granite City Army Depot also was among the two highest facilities in labor costs of those studied with $3.74 per hour for a grade five employee, tied with Sacramento's scale. Sharpe reported $3.67 and Toby-hanna $3.07 for the same grade employee. Wage scales were assumed comparable for other grades. As a result of the study the GAO concluded, "Granite City was tied with Sacramento as the depot with the highest labor cost."

In its summary, the study agreed with the Army inactivation schedule which calls for material to be issued out until Dec. 31, after which time the remaining stocks are to be moved in bulk to other locations by May 31, 1971. Other agencies including the Government Printing Office, the Defense Supply Agency and the Office of Civil Defense are to complete movement of their stocks by Nov. 30, 1970.

After deactivation of the depot is completed, the property will be turned over to the General Services Administration (GSA) for disposal or alternate utilization. The maintenance of material on hand will continue until March 30, 1971.

Support functions furnished by other organizations at the St. Louis area will gradually be phased out with the exception of family housing and commissary operations which will be retained under the administration of the Aviation Systems Command, St. Louis.

849 Jobs Eliminated
The deactivation of the local depot will cause a reduction of 84 military and 849 civilian jobs. Of the military personnel nine were to be transferred to other Army Materiel Command posts and 39 were to be reassigned for other military duties. Of the 1430 civilian employees, 841 were scheduled to be transferred to other posts and the remaining 849 posts were to be eliminated.

The GAO reported that between the time the Army report was issued and the GAO report was released, 91 persons had been transferred to other Army activities, 87 had been transferred to other government agencies, 36 had resigned, 77 had retired and 22 had left the depot for other reasons.

The report said, "We were informed that those civilian employees not transferred will receive reduction-in-force notices during the period January through March 1971, to be effective during the period April through June 1971.

The Army will be required to maintain the depot facilities for up to 18 months after closure, but the report said the GSA told us that "...no decision would be made on the use or disposition of the facilities for about a year."

you're never alone

When you're aware that God's love is wherever you are, loneliness and anxiety fade. That's because your very identity is the image and likeness of God.

This is the inspiring and practical basis of a talk, Norman E. Holmes, C.S.B., of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship will give, entitled "Our Search for Identity."

He will show how an understanding of their real identity set a young man on the path to a new career, and freed a schoolteacher from the threat of a nervous breakdown.

You are warmly invited to come and enjoy this free public lecture.

Revenue Article-Tax Uniformity And Several Specified Exceptions

(1970 Illinois Constitutional Convention)

SECTION 1. STATE REVENUE POWER.
The General Assembly has the exclusive power to raise revenue by law except as limited or otherwise provided in this Constitution. The power of taxation shall not be surrendered, suspended, or contracted away.

SECTION 2. NON-PROPERTY TAXES—CLASSIFICATION, EXEMPTIONS, DEDUCTIONS, ALLOWANCES AND CREDITS.
In any law classifying the subjects or objects of non-property taxes or fees, the classes shall be reasonable and the subjects and objects within each class shall be taxed uniformly. Exemptions, deductions, credits, refunds and other allowances shall be reasonable.

SECTION 3. LIMITATIONS ON INCOME TAXATION.
(a) A tax on or measured by income shall be a non-graduated rate.

At any one time there shall be no more than one such tax imposed by the State for State purposes on individuals and no such tax to be imposed on corporations. In any such tax imposed upon corporations the rate shall not exceed the rate imposed on individuals by more than a ratio of 8 to 5.

(b) Laws imposing taxes on or measured by income may adopt by reference provisions of the laws and regulations of the United States as they then exist or thereafter may be changed, for the purpose of arriving at the amount of income upon which taxation is imposed.

SECTION 4. REAL PROPERTY TAXATION.
(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, real property shall be levied uniformly by valuation assessed as the General Assembly shall provide by law.

(b) Subject to such limitations as the General Assembly may hereinafter provide by law, counties with a population of more than 200,000 may classify or continue to classify real property for purposes of taxation.

Any such classification shall be reasonable and assessments shall be uniform within each class. The level of assessment or rate of tax of the highest class in any county shall not exceed two and one-half times the level of assessment or rate of tax of the lowest class in that county.

Real property used in farming in a county shall not be assessed at a higher level of assessment than single family residential real property in that county.

(c) Any depreciation in the value of real estate occasioned by a public emergency shall be deducted in assessing such property.

SECTION 5. PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXATION.
(a) The General Assembly by law may classify personal property for purposes of taxation by valuation, abolish such taxes on any or all classes, and authorize the levy of taxes in lieu of the taxation of personal property by valuation.

(b) Any ad valorem personal property tax abolished or before the effective date of this Constitution shall not be reinstated.

(c) On or before Jan. 1, 1979, the General Assembly by law shall abolish all ad valorem personal property taxes and concurrently therewith and thereafter shall replace all revenue lost by units of local government and school districts as a result of the abolition of ad valorem personal property taxes subsequent to Jan. 2, 1971.

Such revenue shall be replaced by imposing statewide taxes, other than ad valorem taxes on real estate, solely on those classes relieved of the burden of paying ad valorem personal property taxes as a result of the abolition of such taxes subsequent to Jan. 2, 1971.

If any taxes imposed for such replacement purposes are taxes on or measured by income, such replacement taxes shall not be considered for purposes of the limitations of one tax and the ratio of 8 to 5 set forth in Section 3 (a) of this Article.

Quad-City Area Determination of Drainage Needs Could Lead to Solutions, Economies

Namezki Township officials' suggestion of a joint meeting of Quad-City municipalities on drainage needs is a good one.

As one of its own commissioners has said, the East Side Levee and Sanitary District—containing parts of two counties but controlled by St. Clair County political leaders—undoubtedly could function more effectively if divided along the county line. This is true despite such negative aspects as having to divide the bond debt and having to develop cooperative agreements on use and maintenance of connecting drainage lines and ditches.

In addition to separation of the district, needs include an evaluation of existing sewer facilities, with a determination of future projects and their financing and administration.

A discussion by Venice, Madison, Granite City, Ponton Beach and township officials could lead to sound planning and tangible action. With the past record of unending deficiencies and extravagance, there is immense room for improvement through a primarily local approach.

Voting Machines Passed Their First Test

In 1968, when paper ballots were in use, in Madison County, seven precincts had not reported 24 hours after the polls closed. The count was completed at the last polling place early the following morning, 30½ hours after the balloting had ended.

In 1970, machine statisticians, who once would have faced around-the-clock duty, were able to depart for their homes before midnight on the night of the general election. The outcome of races was known long before the joy in some past years, when missing precincts held the key to close contests.

The voting machines which recorded the Nov. 3 voter preferences generally worked well. Unfamiliarity of the voters and poll judges caused delays in some areas, but this undoubtedly would be overcome if use of machines became the pattern. Split tickets, which may have been somewhat discouraged by the newness of the voting procedure, are not difficult to accomplish on the machines and may increase over the 1970 volume as voters gain in confidence.

Dividends were not only a faster count but less opportunity to manipulate the voting and tabulating. The Shoup machines passed their initial test here with flying colors.

Don't tell others your troubles; half of them are not interested and the other half may be glad you are getting what you deserve.

Top Prize—A Product to Heal Chopped Lips

"Sure, she kissed you once, but will she kiss you again?" This parody of a current commercial was one of the humorous comments directed at two couples of Eastern Washington State College students Nov. 11 after they had broken a continuous kissing record of nine hours, 12 minutes, set at Southwest Texas State University last month.

The times achieved were 11 hours and 29 minutes and 12 hours, hardly rivaling exploits in past eras, when flapper sisters and marathon runners were known to continue "doing their thing" for months at a time.

But we will have to admit that the latest record breakers made up for the relative brevity of their accomplishment by selecting a endurance test a lot more interesting than perching atop a pole.

It is said that it takes two kinds of people to make the world—poets to write about the beauty of autumn and the rest of us to rake them.

Winter Wonderland

By BILL WINTER

Editor, Press-Record

From time to time, newspapers outline to their readers the inner workings of the process followed in endorsing candidates.

Although the Press-Record has not done so, it is about to undertake an investigative procedure as, for example, the New York Times editorial board, in its approach has the same intention.

The purpose is to probe behind the facade of campaign platforms and platitudes to determine which of competing aspirants is most likely to do the best job if elected.

Part of the method of evaluating candidates and nominees is to talk to them.

A personal conversation with someone trying to "put his best foot forward" does not reveal everything one might want to know, no one has ever perfected a way of looking into the inner recesses of an individual's intellect and character.

But a direct discussion of goals and attitudes is helpful, providing much greater insight than merely reading a biography, scanning a photograph and perusing statements and press releases.

Those on the 1970 ballot who visited the Press-Record office for in-depth questions were three of the four Democrats seeking statewide posts, Alan Dix, who was elected as state treasurer, Dr. Michael J. Bakalis, new superintendent of public instruction, and Judge Joseph Goldenhersh, who was named to the Illinois Supreme Court.

Brief discussions were held during the fall with Judge Harold K. Clark, Republican, who was retained as an independent circuit judge but lost to Judge Goldenhersh for the state court State Representative Sam Vadablene, newly-elected state senator; Senator Merrill Otwell (R), who was defeated by Judge Goldenhersh (R), who unsuccessfully opposed Miss Eulalia Holt (D), incumbent Madison county clerk.

Still briefer contacts occurred with ten other aspirants for district and county offices.

Some of these candidates—and also some of the group not visiting the Press-Record—have been acquaintances for a number of years. Others have been viewed in action in political and governmental arenas.

All were observed over a considerable period of time, some privately and some far away, either as public officials or citizens or both.

Some of them can go very far through life without becoming known, favorably or unfavorably, by many people. And many of them, though not known, are well known by the press, since government offices by their nature are a focus of newsman's attention.

Rotary Hosts St. Louis U. Graduate Students

Three graduate students from St. Louis University, School of Commerce and Finance, and Dr. Donald J. Klein, associate professor of accounting, were special speakers at the regular Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday at the YMCA.

The students were invited to speak on any topic of their choice, and their talks were evaluated by the Rotary members present.

Two of the guests, Michael Kelly and Dieter Ungelbeck, chose to speak in the generation gap but from different points of view. Kelly, a student activist and former honorable member of the 1967 All American college football team for Western Illinois University, explained the youth's point of view.

Ungelbeck, a native of Vienna, Austria, and project manager for development at the Ralston Purina Co., visited the generation gap from the European point of view, stressing the lack of respect of youth in America for their parents and their accomplishments.

The third speaker, Joseph Bick, spoke on the 1920s of which he is indicated in present trends. He has received his bachelor's degree from St. Louis University and has practiced law since 1960 as a member of the legal department of the Union Electric Co. He has been the company's general attorney since 1968.

Dr. Klein introduced the speakers and directed a question and answer session following the talks. Richard Laree was program chairman.

Two Women Arrested On Robbery Charge

Two young women from Venice were arraigned Tuesday afternoon on charges stemming from an incident Monday afternoon in the parking lot of a Madison grocery store where the pair allegedly assaulted two Granite City young women, stole a purse from one and slashed her with a knife.

Cleatress Hopkins, 20, and Joanne Hudson, 18, both of 107 Weaver St., Venice, were arraigned on charges of robbery. Miss Hopkins was arraigned on an additional charge of aggravated battery.

The victim, Mary Ellen Stimac, 18, of the 1400 block of Grand Avenue, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated for lacerations to the left side of her back and to the thumb of her right hand which required five sutures. She was released following treatment.

She told police that she and her sister, Alice May Stimac, had left Schermer Bros. Market at 6:20 p.m. Monday carrying grocery bags, and were walking toward their car parked at the rear of the store, when they were approached by two young women.

One of them allegedly grabbed Alice May's handbag, police reported, and a fight developed. She pulled a six inch long knife and threatened Alice May, police said. At the same time, Mary Ellen was fighting with the other attacker, according to officers.

Alice May broke free and started running toward the front of the store when she heard her sister yell and turned to see Mary Ellen chasing the two attackers toward an alley near the store, she told officers.

Police later arrested Mrs. Hopkins and Miss Hudson. Mary Ellen's purse was stolen in the attack after she was cut. Police later arrested Mrs. Hopkins and Miss Hudson.

16 Circuits for Serviceman in Vietnam to Phone Families Here

The addition of a half dozen overseas telephone circuits this year will make it easier for servicemen to talk with their families back home this Christmas.

Joe W. Smith, unit manager in Granite City for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., said today that 16 circuits are now available to Vietnam.

He pointed out, however, that because of the volume of phone calls generated by holiday calling, persons wishing to reach servicemen in Vietnam should plan ahead for the rush.

"It is generally easier to reach a serviceman in Vietnam than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam," Smith said.

"This is because servicemen can call the U. S. from Saigon, Ton Son Nhut, Long Binh, Cam Ranh Bay, Nha Trang, Qui Nhon and Da Nang. Calls originating from the U. S. can be placed only to Saigon."

Unit, APO, Telephone He added that a caller trying to reach a serviceman in Saigon will have less difficulty if he knows the serviceman's unit, APO and telephone where he can be reached.

"Although servicemen place calls from Vietnam on a first-come, first-served basis, it usually takes only a few minutes to reach the U. S. once they get access to a phone at one of the Vietnam telephone centers," Smith said.

He reminded residents of the 14-hour time difference between the U. S. and Saigon. For example, when it is 11 a.m. in Granite City, it is 1 a.m. on Dec. 26 in Saigon.

Smith said the first three-minute period of a station-to-station call to Vietnam costs $2, while a person-to-person call of the same length costs $12. Additional minute rates for both kinds of calls are $3.

Julian Bond to Speak at SIU-SW Center Nov. 23

Julian Bond, a member of the Georgia House of Representatives, will speak at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern next Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Meridian Hall of the University Center. The public is invited, admission free.

An active anti-segregationist since 1960 and vocal opponent of the Vietnam war since 1965, Bond was seated in the Georgia Legislature Jan. 9, 1967, after his third election, when the U. S. Supreme Court unanimously ruled that the Georgia House had erred in refusing him a seat.

Born in Nashville, Tenn., Bond attended primary school at Lincoln University in Pennsylvania and was graduated in 1957 from the George School, a coeducational Quaker preparatory school in Pennsylvania.

Bond was a founder of the Committee on Appeal for Human Rights (COAHR), the Atlanta University Center student organization that co-ordinated three years of student anti-segregation protests in Atlanta beginning in 1960. He served for three months as executive secretary of COAHR.

In April, 1960, he helped to

Park District Offers '1776' Theatre Trip

A trip to the American Theatre, St. Louis, for a performance of the award-winning musical, "1776," is planned for Tuesday, Dec. 15, Harold Brown, Granite City superintendent of parks announced today.

A series of fall and winter theatre trips was offered the public from 1963 to 1968 when they were discontinued due to rising costs of theatre tickets. Next month's excursion has been arranged on an experimental basis, Brown explained.

Thirty tickets, priced at $6 each, will be available for the show. Reservations must be made prior to Dec. 7 by calling the Wilson Park office, at 877-3099, the park official said.

An additional $1.15 fee for roundtrip bus transportation will be charged those making the trip, Brown added.

Bugler To Be Honored At Service Saturday

Honorary membership in the Fleet Reserve Association will be awarded to Andrew Sgroi, departmental bugler of the American Legion, St. Louis, during a service at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Soldiers Memorial, St. Louis, according to John Matras, secretary of the Greater St. Louis Branch 267 of the association.

Matras, who lives at 3221 Fehling Road, Granite City, cosigned the resolution to make Sgroi an honorary member, an honor bestowed on not more than 10 men in the United States annually.

In the resolution, Sgroi was cited for "sounding 'Taps' at military funerals in the Greater St. Louis area. He has sounded 'Taps' for the dead of three wars for the Navy, Army, Marine Corps and the Air Force including shipmates of the Fleet Reserve Association."

The resolution also says, "this gentleman has been the departmental bugler of the American Legion since 1943 and as such sounds 'Taps' on the average of twice a day at military funerals and has traveled as much as 700 miles to perform this service for a departed comrade or shipmate."

Other honorary members of the group are Cong. Charles S. Gaber, Cong. Mendell Rivers and President Harry S. Truman.

Area to Participate in Dystrophy Campaign

Granite City citizens will participate in the March Against Dystrophy Saturday and Sunday. These volunteers have enlisted in the nationwide appeal for research funds for Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, Inc.

Over one million children and adults suffer from muscular dystrophy. The relentless advance of this crippling muscle-wasting disease is greatly shortens life expectancy at all age levels. In children, who compose the majority of its victims, it is nearly always fatal. MDAA hopes its all-out scientific research program will find the answer in time to have those now stricken.

A national, non-profit health agency, MDAA was established by parents, friends and relatives of dystrophic children. In addition to its grant-in-aid program, the Association has built and supports a major research center in New York City, maintains a network of muscular dystrophy clinics, and provides a wide variety of patient services.

State to Serve as Trustee of Postal Savings Funds

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has sued to have the State of Illinois declared trustee for approximately $300,000 in inactive U. S. Postal Savings accounts now held by the United States Treasury Department.

The accounts were deposited more than 20 years ago by persons whose last known addresses were in Illinois. In 1966, following the discontinuance of the United States Postal Savings system, these accounts and all other unclaimed Postal Savings accounts were transferred to the Treasury Department.

Scott is acting under a recent Treasury Department ruling enabling the states to sue for a transfer of the money.

Scott's suit, filed in Cook County Circuit Court, seeks an order providing for the state to act as trustee for the Illinois accounts during a period of time in which the depositors will be able to claim their money. According to U. S. Treasury Department regulations, the owners of these accounts will be paid interest for the years in which the money has remained with the United States Treasury. In many instances, the amounts that Illinois will receive will be substantially greater than their initial deposits because of compound interest.

The notices will be published 120 days from the date of the court order transferring the money in the accounts to the State of Illinois.

Owners of the accounts must establish proofs of their claims within 65 days of the second published notice. In 65 days after that notice, the money will revert to the state on whom all further claims must be made.

The new SPINAL-GUARD mattress by King Koil is made to provide firm support in the middle of the mattress where the heaviest part of your body is.

This illustration shows your sleeping posture on a mattress that does not have adequate support. The center part of your body can actually sag down and out of the normal position position like this.

Here's SPINAL-GUARD at work providing more support where it's really needed to keep your body in sleeping position.

The sections at either end of the extra support area are built for maximum comfort too. And, in addition, SPINAL-GUARD features the famous King Koil Flex Edge, non-sag edge construction. It is filled with non-allergenic cushioning and covered with a Soft-Surface, heavy duty fabric beginning treated to resist germs and bacteria.

The construction box spring unit is specially built to provide the proper firm base for the SPINAL-GUARD mattress. Flex Edge construction is also used at the center ends of this unit to further reinforce the critical area.

Take a look at the new King Koil SPINAL-GUARD mattress and box springs now and take advantage of the special low introductory prices. You could be sleeping in better posture tonight!

Here's what the International Chiropractors Association has to say about SPINAL-GUARD:

"King Koil SPINAL-GUARD is the only sleep set designed and constructed specifically to meet the recommendations of the mattress committee of the INTERNATIONAL CHIROPRACTORS ASSOCIATION."
